

AUTUMN TERM - NEWSLETTER - Issue 08- 10th February 2023

Supporting one another in learning and life.
Compassion, Wisdom, Perseverance

Head of School Blog..

Dear All,

It doesn't feel like five minutes since my last end of term blog but here we are again! This term has brought challenges and successes in equal measure with bugs knocking the staff team for six as well as some of the children. We have ALL learned a lot this term and something that I realise we don't do enough as a staff is celebrate what we have achieved . We are constantly thinking about what we could do better but in this blog post I'm going to celebrate our wins this term. Our little school has become a cohesive mini community with all children having a greater opportunity to get to know one another. Wild Tribe has been a raring success as a whole school activity and we have loved our session at our beautiful ever changing Wild Tribe field. The children are all now working towards their Wild Tribe Achievement Awards and developing a strong sense of agency for the natural environment. We are excited to announce that we have some pupils who have applied for very important roles within the school , more in that at the beginning of next term . Most of all , we are once again so proud of the children of Veryan who have embraced their new working groups and have made new friendships as a result . Well done to everyone and a huge heartfelt thank you to you our parents and the volunteers who support us everyday to be the best we can be.
Happy half term all!

Best Wishes
Emeline

Sharing Veryan's learning...

Carne class have been extremely busy over the last couple of weeks. They celebrated Chinese new Year, making dragons and cooking Chinese inspired food together, they have had lots of fun learning about pirates, building a ship, making hats and making pirates out of sticks at the Wild Tribe field.

They have celebrated a birthday and made a cake. They finished off the half term by thinking about who they love and why and making heart shaped valentines biscuits for them.

Sharing Veryan's learning...

In topic Key stage 2 have been learning about rivers, this week, they made a collage to demonstrate the structure of a river and used atlases to locate significant world rivers. During our wild tribe session, we launched The Wild Tribe Achievement Award and the children began working towards different objectives for each stage of the award. This involved making trails, learning the Countryside Code, looking at nature closely with a magnifying glass, creating observational sketches and searching for and then ordering sticks by size.

Our learning about The Creation Story has continued, our whole school display is now up in the corridor and Year 3 and 4 have been considering how Christians would want to treat the world, knowing that God was the Creator. Year 5 and 6 have been asking whether it is possible for the Creation story and Science to compliment one another as an explanation of how the world was made.

Sharing Veryan's learning...

Mixed age classes creating increased opportunities for fostering beautiful friendships through collaboration, shared story times and scaffolding learning- we are so proud of all our little learners this term !

getting our days off to a good start*

Today we received an exciting visit from 'Selene scholars' they came and sung for us in school and then held a singing workshop, using their voices as instruments, the children were memorized and thoroughly enjoyed joining in.

They are performing tonight at 19:30 in Gerran's memorial hall and any children from Verryan school may attend for free, with one parent entry half price per child.

OV Hub

Stay and play is going running every Friday morning in the hall. We are really enjoying getting to know the future children of Veryan School.
